

Fort Walton Machining

I can definitely recommend IMS for custom post generation. They have completed several 5-axis posts for Fort Walton Machining. They are extremely customer-centric. To say they are responsive is an understatement. They have responded immediately, sometimes when the request is made outside of normal business hours. They are technically astute and all of our Programmers enjoy working with them.

Glenn Larson, Production Manager